Man bludgeons wife; hangs self

Mysuru, June 2 (RK&BCT)- Cases of people under severe depression and stress murdering their loved ones and committing suicide seem to have been on the rise.

Even as the incident where an unemployed software engineer R. Prajwal killing his wife Savitha and child Sinchana and attempting suicide in Vijayanagar Third Stage in city on May 25 is fresh in the memory, one more similar incident where a man killing his wife and committing suicide has been reported from Jayapura Hobli this morning.

It may be mentioned here that even in Doddaballapur near Bengaluru a similar incident occurred just two days back when a deceased TV anchor Chandan's wife Meena, unable to bear the loss of her husband who died in a road accident, slit the throat of her son Tushar and later committed suicide by consuming poison.

The latest incident in Mysuru was reported at Murudanahalli in Jayapura Hobli where a man crushed the head of his wife with a boulder and later hung himself. The couple owned a farm and had four children. Now with the parents gone, the four children are at the mercy of relatives and villagers.

The man has been identified as 45-year-old Ningaraju and his wife 37-year-old Chikkanki. Police said that Ningaraju would have murdered Chikkanki on Tuesday and would have hung himself the same day.

While Chikkanki's body with her head crushed was found in a field owned by the couple, Ningaraju's body was found hanging inside a room of the house. The children were away at their grandmother's place.

Police said that some villagers complained of foul smell emanating from the house and when they broke open the door, Ningaraju's body was found hanging. Soon, the Police began a search for the rest of the family when they found Chikkanki's body. The children were later found at their grandmother's place.

Both the bodies were highly decomposed and have been shifted to MMC&RI for post-mortem.

Dodging death, fearing fate

The current medium age of India's human population is officially stated as 25 years, meaning that age accounts for half the total headcount of the country. The figure for life expectancy of the nation's people at large, accepted as 68.35 years (2015), is a statistical measure of the average time a person is expected to live, based on year of birth, current age and other demographic factors including gender. However, the life span for human beings is conceded to be a full 100 years, although in reality, the actual proportion in the total population of human beings who last the full span is short of 100 per cent. Genetic factors as well as afflictions, particularly the life-threatening ones, suffered during life's journey, seem to play a major role in people departing at an age far below the figure of life expectancy. It is the excuse to invoke these factors behind one's death commonly talked about by lay people, who dodge death and also fear fate. Knowing the cause of death is made much except for subserving the provisions of law in cases of unnatural deaths. To be informed by doctors that persons past the age of the biblical four score and ten died due to age-related issues of health may help the near and dear ones of the deceased to feel complacent.

We owe it to the dailies for providing their valued column space to carry the news of demise of persons irrespective of their status in society under the obituary column in bold, eye-catching font, invariably stating the age of the departed soul at the time of death and other features. The memory of the event involving every person, mercifully, fades over time, sooner in case of some than the rest. Call it a frailty of the human mind, death, particularly of kin and friends, is not accepted despite its inevitability.

If in the extremely unlikely happening of whoever was born all over the earth from Day-1 attained immortality became a reality, there are no words to even imagine the fate of the planet. On this one paramount count, we are obliged to accept death as an inescapable end to one's life taking anyone attempting to dodge death to the region of extreme absurdity. When asked about death, even Lord Krishna is believed to have replied that nobody can steer clear of fate. Fate is portrayed as an agent of death and while it is feared by all it is given only to a distinguished class of persons with spotless clarity profound philosophy and perception of the connect between life and death not to fear fate but accept its hand unequivocally.

An occasional report in the media that someone died after living to the age beyond 110 or so has its news value and nothing more than the inference that death can be dodged upto a finite limit. For those who fear fate, one is obliged to quote the Roman Philosopher Seneca (died on 12th April 65AD): Life is like a story, not how long it is, but how good.

Nehru came to Modi's rescue when the latter met British Prime Minister Theresa May earlier this year on the sidelines of the Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting. External Affairs Minister Sushma Swaraj shared that after disgraced industrialist Vijay Mallya complained that Indian jails were in poor condition, a British Court suggested a team would inspect them. The issue came up for discussion during May's meeting with Modi. According to Swaraj, Modi told May that these were the same jails where the British had imprisoned Mahatma Gandhi, Nehru and others. "For your Courts to question the conditions in these same jails is therefore not correct," Modi according to Swaraj, told Theresa May. — In Business Standard.

Dog spends days staring at blue wall

General Roca: A Labrador in General Roca city of Argentaina has become an online sensation for a very peculiar reason – he spent at least three days staring at the blue wall of a bus station and no one knows why.

The dog, named Chicho by social media users who didn't know his real name, spends most of his time at a blue bus stop in the Stefenelli neighborhood of General Roca. He keeps his eyes glued to the blue wall of the station, as if paying attention to something or someone that nobody else can see.

A local vet said that he couldn't offer a logical explanation for the animal's behaviour, and could only speculate that Chicho was waiting for someone to come at the station, although that wouldn't explain the staring at the wall.

Following the dog's meteoric rise to fame on social media and in the city of General Roca, his owner decided to take him away from the station by force and keep him in his yard, for fear that someone could kidnap him or harm him in some way.

Man divorces wife for bathing once a year!

Taiwan: A Taiwanese man recently had his petition for divorce approved by the New Taipei City District Court after claiming psychological torture due to his ex-wife's hygiene habits. The woman, allegedly bathed just once a year and only occasionally washed her hair or brushed her teeth.

The unnamed plaintiff said that at the time they were dating she bathed weekly, but that worsened after their wedding. Her weekly showers became monthly, then biannual, and when she started bathing only once a year.

The Court supported the plaintiff's case, stating that the couple was at odds over work, family chores, and hygiene and that after a two-year separation it was evident that the marriage was not going to work.

Make sports, NCC mandatory in schools and colleges

Sir,

It is a shame that we don't have a basic national policy of education at schools and colleges. Whatever our regional differences and preferences we must pay attention to the overall development of children.

Sports activity and NCC to inculcate social harmony and discipline must be made mandatory in all schools and colleges. There are so many PU Colleges which are run like tuition shops where even faculty with a good name indulge in syndicate tuition and even bright students fall a prey to it. This must be severely discouraged by the education authorities.

Another important problem to be tackled is the demand of school and college authorities to pay the tuition and admission fee (which varies from 20,000 to 50,000) at one instalment. This will be a great burden to the low-income parents. A concession may be shown at least by accepting fee in two or three instalments.

I hope some attention will be paid to this problem immediately by the new government in Karnataka.

Cabinet expansion on June 6

Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy greets former CM Siddharamaiah at the venue of a press conference in Bengaluru yesterday as (from left) senior Congress leaders Dr. M. Veerappa Moily, Mallikarjuna Kharge, AICC General Secretary K.C. Venugopal, Deputy Chief Minister Dr. G. Parameshwara, JD(S) National General Secretary Danish Ali and Congress strongman D.K. Shivakumar look on.

Bengaluru, June 2 (KMS& BCT)- After days of hectic parleys, coalition partners JD(S) and Congress finally reached a consensus yesterday on expanding the Cabinet and also announced that the two parties will fight the 2019 elections together as a pre-poll alliance.

Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy will expand his Council of Ministers on June 6. The Congress conceded and agreed to give away the Finance portfolio — which had become a bone of contention between the two partners. Kumaraswamy will hold the portfolio. Also, the Congress agreed that Kumaraswamy can continue as Chief Minister for the full five years.

"Everything is settled now," said All India Congress Committee General Secretary K.C. Venugopal as he announced that the party has conceded the plum Finance Ministry to the JD(S). In return, Congress will get the crucial Home Department.

Energy portfolio had also emerged as a thorny issue in the negotiations, with State senior Congress leader D.K. Shivakumar, who was the key person who kept the Congress flock together during the political drama, reportedly keen on it. In all, JD(S) will get 12 Ministries, while the Congress will get 22.

Addressing a press conference with his deputy Dr. G Parameshwara yesterday, CM Kumaraswamy said the swearing-in of new Ministers will happen on June 6 (Wednesday) at 2 pm as Governor Vajubhai Vala will not be in Bengaluru till the previous day.

The thorny issues was resolved after the Congress top central leadership stepped in, with Congress President Rahul Gandhi speaking to Kumaraswamy on Friday. "Little bit of issues came in the form of Finance portfolio.

Congress President Rahul Gandhi himself gave directions to us that this coalition government is the need of the hour of the country," Venugopal said as he read out a joint statement signed by him and JD(S) General Secretary Danish Ali at a press conference.

A common agenda for governance based on the manifesto of both the parties would be prepared and presented to the people of the State at the earliest, the parties said.

The two parties also announced a coalition Coordination and Monitoring Committee.

The coordination committee, headed by former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, comprises CM Kumaraswamy, his deputy Dr.G. Parameshwara, K.C. Venugopal and JD(S) National General Secretary Kanwar Danish Ali.

The panel will be meeting at least once a month to ensure smooth functioning of the government.

Sources said the JD(S) leadership was initially against Siddharamaiah, who is an arch-rival of JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda, heading the panel.

But the Congress High Command refused to budge on this issue. Siddharamaiah is known for his administrative acumen.

Shivakumar loses 'Power'

Both D.K. Shivakumar and JD(S) leader Revanna were lobbying for the Energy portfolio. Though Shivakumar has maintained that he had not lobbied for any post or a portfolio, party insiders said he was insisting on getting the Energy Ministry.

Yesterday afternoon, after getting the hint from the party, Shivakumar appeared to be miffed. The disappointment was reflecting when he asked media persons not to compare him with Revanna, who is a senior leader. In a tone loaded with sarcasm, the Congress leader said he would take whatever responsibility is given to him by the party.

Sources in the party said the former Minister was eyeing the post of the Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) chief and a plum portfolio. The party, however, is yet to take any decision on the party post.

Parties and Portfolios

The JD(S): Information, Intelligence, Planning and Statistics, Finance and Excise, PWD, Power, Cooperation, Education (excluding Medical Education), Animal Husbandry and Fisheries, Horticulture and Sericulture, Small Scale Industries, Transport and Minor Irrigation.

The Congress: Home, Water Resources, Bengaluru City Development, Industries and Sugar, Health, Revenue/Muzarai, Urban Development, Rural Development and Panchayat Raj, Agriculture, Housing, Medical Education, Social Welfare, Forest and Environment, Labour, Mines and Geology, Women and Child Welfare, Food and Civil Supplies, Haj, Wakf & Minority Affairs, Law and Parliamentary Affairs, Science & Technology, IT&BT, Youth and Sports, Kannada and Culture, Ports and Inland Transport.

CM asks officials not to use mobile phones in meetings

Bengaluru, June 2- As mobile phones were distracting at official meetings, the Chief Minister on Friday has issued instructions to officials participating in meetings to refrain from using mobile phones.

The direction comes as it is often seen that use of mobile phones undermines the seriousness of the topic under discussion. As per a circular issued in this regard, officials should surrender their mobile phones before meetings and pick up after the meeting ends.

Infosys Mentor Narayana Murthy wrests hope on youth to take country forward

Video address at Ideal Jawa Rotary School Golden Jubilee

Mysuru, June 2(NNN&MTY)- "The youth of today are living in a very challenging and interesting times. They have all the opportunities to rise to the occasion and take the country forward," said Infosys Mentor N.R. Narayana Murthy (NRN).

NRN

He was addressing the students of Ideal Jawa Rotary School at its Golden Jubilee celebrations in a video address at the Open Air Theatre in Manasagangothri, here last evening and said, "The country for the first time in 300 years history is poised for a big leap as the world's attention is focused on us. The economic growth is at an all-time high of 6.5 per cent. But there was a time when India was known only for exporting spices unlike now where it is known for software export and development centre of the world."

He expressed his regret that he was unable to be present personally due to ill health.

Talking about the country's leap he said, "It is after a long time that the investor's confidence about India is high and this has resulted in Foreign Direct Investment and portfolio investment."

However, he sounded a note of caution when he raised concerns over India still being backward in many parameters. "Corruption is an issue that is eating into the very vitals of the country. On the one hand the number of billionaires is going up, even as 350 million remain illiterate. Nearly 150 million have no access to safe drinking water and over 500 million do not have access to sanitation facilities," he said and added, "This is not how a country is built."

Pointing out that unlike his generation who could have made a bigger difference, he said, "I hope that India will see immense growth in the next 30 years and the 40-50-year-olds being better informed and confident citizens will make a difference to the country."

Is Pranab*da* making moves?

Former President Pranab Mukherjee will address the members of Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) at its Headquarters in Nagpur on June 7. This has shaken the Congress, silenced the Gandhis, confused the BJP and given hope to the Third Front...but more importantly, it shows that even at 82, Pranab Mukherjee still knows how to stay relevant in politics.

Now there are reports that Pranab Mukherjee, fondly called Pranab*da* in political circles, is playing a significant role in bringing non-Congress and non-BJP leaders together to form an alternative front ahead of 2019. This report is based on the frequent visits of political bigwigs to the former President's bungalow in Delhi.

Also the photo of a luncheon hosted by Odisha Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik, attended by Pranab Mukherjee, H.D. Deve Gowda, Sitaram Yechury and the disgruntled BJP veteran L.K. Advani a few months ago may have added some credence to this reported political development.

Is Pranab Mukherjee giving it one last shot at the position that has evaded him not once, not twice, not thrice but four times? — 1984, 1991, 2004 and 2009.

In fact, the Gandhis snatched every opportunity away from Pranab Mukherjee because they were insecure. It is said that after Indira Gandhi's assassination in 1984, Rajiv Gandhi had asked his mother's trusted aide Pranab, who would become the new Prime Minister now. Pranab Mukherjee had reportedly replied, "The senior-most Minister" which he himself was at that time. Taken aback by his cunning reply and ambition, the Gandhi family became wary of him.

So much so that soon after a novice Rajiv Gandhi himself became the PM, he did not include the senior-most Congressman Pranab Mukherjee in his Cabinet. A hurt and angry Pranab Mukherjee left Congress and started his own party, the Rashtriya Samajwadi Congress which did not see much success.

In 1991, after Rajiv Gandhi's assassination, Pranab Mukherjee came back to Congress and he had a chance to be PM but he was not an MP so Arjun Singh and Sharad Pawar became the contenders. But since the number of South Indian MPs were more P.V. Narasimha Rao was called from retirement and made PM. Pranab Mukherjee missed his chance once again.

Then in 2004, when the Congress-led UPA came to power, for his bad luck Sonia Gandhi became the Party boss. How could she give power to a man who never wanted her husband to be PM. So, as expected, Pranab Mukherjee lost a third time.

In 2009, he had a chance again when Dr. Manmohan Singh was out of action due to health issues but even then Pranab Mukherjee was not made acting PM.

Even if the Gandhis did not make Pranab Mukherjee the PM he was just as powerful. So much so that he was called the de-facto Prime Minister of India. He was the main troubleshooter for the government, from the Lokpal Bill to the issue of Telangana. From countering the Opposition charges to cajoling them, he was the quintessential middleman of Indian governance.

In fact, Pranab Mukherjee sensed he will never be PM and finally played his cards to at least become the President of India. And in that effort, he tried to please the Gandhi family and even edited a lopsided two volume book — 'Congress and the Making of the Indian Nation.' It had a lot of nice things to say about Rajiv Gandhi, but very little about Sanjay Gandhi and even Indira Gandhi. Guess, it worked as Sonia soon made him the 13th President of India.

In the end, Pranab Mukherjee's name may be abbreviated as P.M., but he never became the PM.

While Sonia Gandhi may have kept P.M. away from being PM, she should realise had she made Pranab Mukherjee the PM in 2004 or even in 2009 instead of Dr. Manmohan Singh, the Congress today would have been in a much better position and the BJP would still be struggling.

May be Sonia Gandhi, knowing that Congress is a family business like many other political parties, should have followed the rule most successful family businesses follow, which is "Even if you are good, hire people who are better than you, and let them run it while you only monitor."

If Sonia had let P.M. run the Congress, while she monitored the Party, today her son Rahul Gandhi's 'self-proclamation' of being the next PM candidate would not sound like a joke.

For now, it would be poetic justice if the old man could snatch the PM-ship away from the son of the man and woman who had snatched it away from him. Ah! Karma is a wonderful thing.

Weekend STAR Supplement

Mysuru Saturday 2nd June 2018

An Apology of

Raitha Santhe

At a time when the State Government is having several brain-storming sessions with top finance officers on the modalities, complications and the impact of farm loan waiver, this Weekend Star Supplement brings you the pathetic story of Raitha Santhe and Mini Markets that have been constructed across Mysuru. These markets, built with the sole aim of empowering farmers, are in a state of utter neglect. If only the money was judiciously used, our farmers would not have been driven to desperation and take the extreme step of committing suicide. And there was no need for a farm loan waiver if the pro-farmer schemes announced in every budget are implemented in letter and spirit.

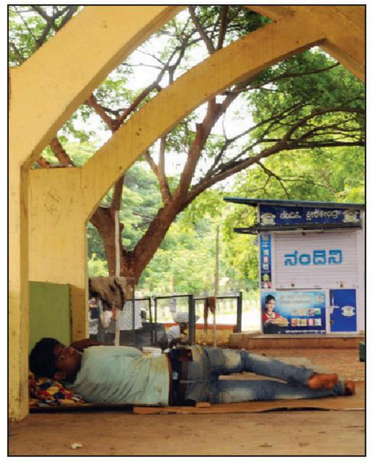
Raitha Santhe

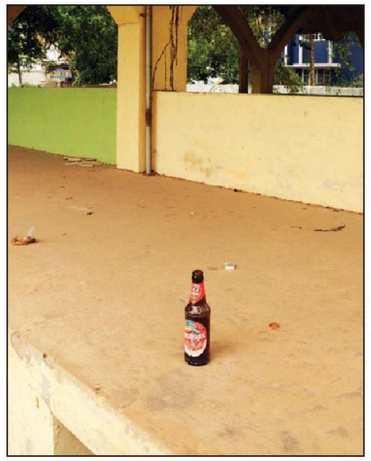
Bane than a Boon

By M.B. Pavan Murthy

The government (read political leaders) in all its wisdom displays unbridled enthusiasm to inaugurate any newly-constructed building. However, the same fervour goes missing once the inauguration is over. This has resulted in lakhs and crores of rupees of the tax-payers' money being wasted and the buildings lying in utter state of neglect.

Many Mini Markets in different places across the city including the Raitha Santhe building that has come up in Vijayanagar 2nd Stage are lying unused since many years. The reason for this is total disdain shown by the elected representatives and the official apathy.





Ironically, the same government that always claims to be the champions of the farmers' cause and welfare, neglects such buildings that have been constructed for the benefit of farmers. Once constructed and inaugurated, the buildings go to the dogs with weeds all over and they become a haven for anti-social elements and drunkards. So the very purpose of constructing such buildings is a waste of time and money.

The pathetic state of the buildings perfectly portrays the so-called commitment of the people who govern us towards the farmers. If utilised and planned properly, these Mini Markets will prove a boon to the farmers and they can sell their produce directly from farm to consumers without the role of any middlemen.

The government spends crores of rupees every year to construct such buildings across the State. And every party that is in power speaks of farmer empowerment without doing much in that direction and force the farmer to depend on loan waivers.

Seeing the pathetic condition of these markets, residents of Mysuru have questioned the rationale behind their construction. If Mysuru has 9 such useless Markets, think of the number of Markets that have been constructed across the State. If only the money was judiciously used, our farmers would not have been driven to desperation and take the extreme step of committing suicide.

MUDA BUILDINGS

Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) had constructed nine Mini Markets for farmers including Raitha Santhe building. Except the Raitha Santhe building, the other Mini Markets have not been utilised at all since its construction. One or two shops which have been given on rent in the Mini Market at Vijayanagar 1st Stage are functioning. Otherwise the remaining Mini Markets are just standing mute.

The Raitha Santhe building in Vijayanagar 2nd Stage was completed almost ten years ago but it has not been fully utilised. The spacious building constructed after investing several lakhs of rupees has all the basic facilities. The only redeeming feature here is the posting of a security guard to protect the place from any illegal activities.

This building was inaugurated on July 15, 2017 by the then Chief Minister Siddharamaiah. The main purpose of Raitha Santhe was to see that the farmers can sell their produce directly to the consumers every Sunday without the interference of middlemen.

The MUDA had even rented the place to APMC (Agriculture Produce Market Committee) for a monthly rent of Rs. 70,000. Though the building was inaugurated with much fanfare, it functioned only for a few days and then everything fell quiet.

If this is the state of affairs of the Raitha Santhe, the condition of Mini Markets are really pathetic. The nine Mini Markets constructed by MUDA are lying useless. While one market is almost collapsing, in a few others, the concrete roofs are peeling apart and there is wild growth of shrubs where snakes and scorpions abound. The local residents are upset with all kinds of illegal activities going on in these open spaces. They have every reason to be angry as there are tell-tale signs of liquor bottles and cigarette butts strewn all around. Even the toilets constructed here are stinking.

On SBI Main Road, Hebbal 1st Stage

The only solace here is that the Mini Market is of some use as one or two people have taken shops on rent from MUDA and sell fruits and vegetables to eke out a living. However, except for these two shops, the remaining area is crying for attention. It is being used to park vehicles and stack unwanted things.

Near Ganapathy Temple, Vijayanagar 2nd Stage

The condition here is appalling. The whole place is covered with shrubs and wild grass. The wire mesh put around the Market is rusting. The roof is collapsing and the materials used for electricity connection is fully covered with dust. It might even have been stolen by thieves. As it is not used for the purpose for which it was built, a few of the locals are tethering their cattle and hence this place has become a cow shed!

Near Krishnadevaraya Circle, Vijayanagar 2nd Stage

Dozens of empty liquor bottles are lying around inside this Mini Market. Though there is so much of traffic and movement of people in the day, this place has become a haven for drunkards from morning itself.

However, the residents here allege that as night descends, it turns into a den for illegal activities and they are cursing the officials and people's representatives for this state of affairs. Even though there is a market here, just outside there are vendors on pushcarts selling fruits and vegetables.

Lakshmikanthanagar, Hebbal 1st Stage

Though this place looks like it is maintained, once one enters inside, its true colours emerge. There is garbage all around and once the nightfall approaches, the drunkards' choicest abuses rent the air, complain the residents.

They want the place to be converted instead into a park or a playground. One of the residents, Limsha Biddappa, speaking to Star of Mysore said, "This place has become a haven for illegal activities and drunkards. I wish the MUDA converts this into a park or playground so that it will be of use to the locals."

This Market looks a bit clean because it has been converted into a godown. Though there are separate toilets for men, women and physically challenged, they have been kept under lock and key. There are parks all around the Market and the residents feel that if only there was a functioning Market inside then they could have finished their purchases after morning and evening walks. Even this building is lying in a state of neglect and as it becomes dark there is no proper protection and the Market is crying for attention.

Markets at Sharadadevinagar, Kyathamaranahalli, JP Nagar and Chikkaharadanahalli

Mini Market in Sharadadevi Nagar 2nd Stage - Even this building is being destroyed with growth of wild shrubs and the peeling of the roof. The fencing around the Market is collapsing. The same is the condition of the Mini Market near Triveni Circle in Kyathamaranahalli.

The Mini Market in JP Nagar 2nd Stage, which was handed over to Mysuru City Corporation, has collapsed. "Alternative arrangements have been made for the traders who were using this Market," said Corporator B.L. Bhyrappa.

Mini Market next to High Tension Line, Chikkaharadanahalli 1st Stage - The MUDA has given a temporary sanction letter to Jaivik Krishik Society, Bengaluru, at Rs.14,400 rent per month, to sell organic products.

'Poor response the reason for neglect'

Even though the Raitha Santhe building has been given free of cost to hold shandies (farmers market), the response has been very poor. After the inauguration on July 15, 2017, a few shandies (santhe) were held. However, later neither the farmers nor farm product producers have bothered to utilise the Market. In spite of security and cleaning staff being provided they are not willing to use the building which has been rented out at Rs.70,000 a month to APMC. Since the place is lying unused, the rent has not been paid and it is being planned to return the building to MUDA.

Unauthorised building on Bannur Road demolished

Mysuru, June 2 (RK&NNN)- The Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) officials in an early morning demolition drive, razed a building and compound wall near the Indian Oil Petrol bunk on Bannur Ring Road (K.B.L. Layout) on the direction of Commissioner P.S. Kantharaj.

The IOC Petrol bunk belonged to one Lakshmi wife of Bullet Nagaraj. The latter it is said had relinquished a portion of the property adjoining the petrol bunk measuring 1.75x42 metres to MUDA in 2013.

However, he had encroached upon the property by building an office complex and compound on the same premises.

In spite of repeated warnings, since he had not vacated the place, the MUDA officials led by Superintending Engineer Suresh Babu with the help of a 30-strong Police force swooped down on the building at 4.30 am and demolished the buildings with cutters. and earth movers.

Executive Engineer Prabhakar, Assistant Executive Engineers (AEE) Ravindra Kumar, K.Bhaskar, M.P. Dinesh, Arun Kumar, G. Mohan, K.C. Ravishankar, AEE (Electrical) Mahesh Babu and other staff participated in the demolition drive.

The demolition was conducted under the protection of Devaraja Sub-Division and Alanahalli Police personnel.

He was speaking after inaugurating the drawing painting and essay competition for school children organised as part of the World Environment Day by the District Administration in association with Karnataka State Pollution Control Board at Kukkarahallikere premises, here this morning. 500 students from 33 schools participated with the theme "Beat Plastic Pollution."

"World Environment Day is celebrated on June 5 and the prizes to the winners of the competition will be distributed on that day," he said.

Doctor's chain snatched at K.R. Hospital

Mysuru, June 2 (RK&NNN)-A lady doctor working in K.R. Hospital was in for a rude shock when the gold chain she was wearing was snatched in broad day light. The incident occurred this morning at 9.30 when Dr. Nandini, after registering her attendance, was walking from Cheluvamba Hospital towards the Surgical Ward (Stone Building) in the K.R. Hospital premises.

The chain snatcher suddenly appeared while Dr. Nandini was walking in the alley between Cheluvamba Hospital and the Stone Building and yanked off the gold chain weighing 25 grams and disappeared even before she could react. It is learnt that there was no CCTV cameras installed in this part of the premises. Devaraja Police Inspector Shantharam has registered a case.

It may be recalled that a similar incident had occurred sometime back but the woman then had thwarted the attempt.

South Teachers Constituency

BJP MLC calls for support to party candidate

Mysuru, June 2(PM&DM)- BJP MLC Arun Shahapur, who is also the Working President of Karnataka Rajya Madhyamika Shikshanika Sangha and Rajya Maha Vidyalayagala Shaikshanika Sangha, has appealed the teaching fraternity to cast their first preferential votes in favour of BJP candidate B.Niranjan Murthy in the Legislative Council polls from South Teachers Constituency to be held on June 8.

Addressing a press meet at Patrakarthara Bhavan here this morning, Arun Shahapur, highlighting the contributions of the BJP Government to the education sector, said that the BJP was always committed to addressing teacher issues.

Accusing the previous Congress Government of doing little for the teaching community, Arun Shahapur smelt a scam in the direct approval given by the Department of Pre-University Education Principal Secretary to some applicants who had sought permission for setting up new PU Colleges, while at the same time rejecting over 70 genuine proposals for the same.

Claiming that there was information that the JD(S)-Congress Coalition Government has plans to divert funds allocated to the education sector for other purposes, he reiterated his appeal to the teachers to cast their first preferential votes in favour of BJP candidate B. Niranjan Murthy and thus enable him to win in the counting of first preferential votes itself.

Sangha office-bearers Rajanna, K.B. Anandamurthy, Nagaraj and others were present at the press meet.

Fuel tank of city-bound KSRTC bus leaks

Providential escape for 35 passengers

Mysuru, June 2 (MTY&BCT)- Over 35 passengers of a luxury KSRTC bus (Volvo multi-axle) travelling from Bengaluru to Mysuru had a providential escape yesterday when the driver stopped the bus following a rupture in the fuel tank. Luckily the tank did not catch fire and the passengers were vacated as over 300 litres of diesel spilt from the fuel tank.

The incident occurred at around 3.30 pm on the Bengaluru-Mysuru highway at Shettihalli near Gananguru in Srirangapatna after the driver of a running KSRTC multi-axle Volvo stopped the bus, following heavy spillage of diesel.

The bus was heading towards Mysuru from Bengaluru when its fuel tank hit an iron rod of a barricade that was erected by the side of the road. The barricade was erected by the Mandya District Police to prevent accidents caused by over-speeding. Some truck or a heavy vehicle had knocked down the barricade and it had fallen on the road.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, M. Vasu, KSRTC Divisional Controller (Rural) said that the driver of the luxury bus Naveen did not notice the fallen barricade on the road and drove the vehicle over it. In the process, the barricade hit the fuel tank that is located by the side of the bus. Due to the impact, the diesel in the tank started leaking.

The fuel leakage was, however noticed by other motorists who were following the bus. They signalled to the driver through their vehicle headlights and Naveen stopped the bus at Gananguru in Srirangapatna. On spotting the leakage, the passengers were vacated. Despite efforts to pug the leak, over 300 litres of diesel leaked.

The vehicle belonged to the KSRTC Mysuru Depot (No 2, Rural Depot) and of BS III Engine. Officials said that the bus have travelled for nearly a kilometre with diesel leaking out heavily.

Naveen, a BE Graduate, who had served in Bengaluru earlier, was said to be currently jobless.

Naveen hanged himself from the ceiling in a room when no body was in the house.

The incident came to light this morning, as Naveen did not come out of the house even after a long time, it is learnt.

Kuvempunagar Police who visited the spot, conducted mahazar and shifted the body to MMC&RI mortuary, besides registering a case.

Four-day personality development camp begins in city

Mysuru, June 2 (SPN&BCT)- A four-day special Personality Development camp 'Spoorthi 2018' is being organised since yesterday for students who hail from Kodagu and pursuing their studies from PUC to Graduation. The camp is being organised by Kodava Deena Bandhu Charitable Trust at Kodava Samaja, Vijayanagar First Stage. The camp will conclude on June 5.

The camp was inaugurated last evening by Major General (Rtd.) Codanda K. Karumbaya and senior Orthodontist Dr. Adengada A. Kuttappa. Addressing the students, Karumbaya said that students must have grip over at least four to five languages so that they can pursue a career in any part of the world. Along with mother tongue and the medium of study, students must strive to learn dominant foreign languages, he said.

Giving an example of Indian Army, the retired officer said that people from various nook and corners of India serve in the Army. One common thread that unites them is Hindi. They all learn Hindi and protect the nation like one family, he said.

On the choice of careers, he said that students must have a proper aim and the courage to pursue their dreams. And it is important for them to periodically assess their capabilities and career path.

A step-by-step monitoring process where there is a room for improvement must be a part of a student's activity, Karumbaya opined.

In his address, Dr. Kuttappa said that it is important for students to read and know about achievers. Almost all the achievers had a tough childhood where they fought against odds to study. "Even our Prime Minister Narendra Modi had a difficult childhood where he sold tea on Railway platforms to eke out a living. Our former President A.P.J. Abdul Kalam used to study under streetlight due to abject poverty," he said.

Students must not discontinue studies at any cost and must strive to secure merit scholarships to pursue their education. Only those who realise the value of education and money at a young age will make good citizens and this in turn, will give rise to a good society, Dr. Kuttappa said.

Kodava Deena Bandhu Charitable Trust Honorary Secretary Pattada A. Jayakumar, Kattera A. Cariappa and Trustee Lieutenant Colonel (Rtd.) Chowrira A. Ganapathy were present.

During the special camp, achievers in various fields will address the students and guide them in academics and careers.

Tree falls on Railway track

Loco pilot's presence of mind prevents major mishap

Mysuru, June 2(YDS,MTY& NNN)-The presence of mind of a loco pilot prevented a possible tragedy yesterday, as he applied brakes in the nick of the moment, after spotting a tree fallen on the railway tracks.

The incident occurred near Kengal in Channapatna taluk of Ramanagaram district.

The Chamundi Express train left Bengaluru Railway Station at 6.15 pm towards Mysuru. Due to heavy rain, a tree had fallen on an electric pole and then on the track just 10 kms from Channapatna near Kengeri.

The Loco Pilot on seeing the tree on the tracks, applied sudden brakes, but the train after moving for about 500 metres over the branches came to a halt. Due to the impact of the tree, the headlight and the engine was damaged.

This resulted in the disruption of the train traffic for almost two hours. The Railway staff on hearing about the incident rushed to the spot and cleared the tree from the track. The train then left at 9.45 pm and as there was no headlight, it reached Channapatna at 10 pm.

The Railway authorities requested the passengers to board another train.

A passenger train which arrived at 10.30 pm left for Mysuru with the stranded passengers and the train reached Mysuru late in the night.

Govt. School runs from a dingy house since 9 years !

By H.D. Ramesh

Students and a teacher inside a classroom at the house. Picture right shows the signboard that displays the school name.

Periyapatna, June 2- Students of a Government School at Periyapatna are being forced to study in a congested private building as it does not have a building of its own. And taking advantage of the recent summer vacation, the owner of the private building is asking the Education Department to vacate the building as he needs it for some purpose.

This is a classic example of the official apathy towards education though crores of rupees are spent in that sector every year. The plight of the school reflects the commitment of the government towards saving Government Schools though our political leaders speak of Kannada pride and saving Kannada Medium Government Schools from becoming prey to the mushrooming private English Medium Schools.

This is the story of K.S. Kalamarigowda Nagar Government Primary School where the school is functioning from a private building. The private building sports a small name board that indicates that this is a school. The classrooms are congested where teachers, students, bags, blackboards and handful of furniture jostle for space. Ironically, though the school has its own land, construction of the classrooms has not been completed and the half-completed construction has now turned into a place where cows take shelter during rains and strong winds.

The kitchen of the house doubles up as a kitchen for the mid-day meal scheme at the school.

As per government policy, each village across the State has to have a school. Accordingly, 13 years back, the school was planned and started at the Janatha House of a villager. Later, funds were released for the construction of the school building at the land owned by Annamalai and Belliamma who donated the land for the cause of education. The government sanctioned alternative land to the donor couple.

Once the land was transferred, the construction the building was handed over to one Ramakrishna who promptly laid the foundation stone. Later, due to some financial issue, the construction contract was taken away from Ramakrishna and was handed over to contractor Dorairaj.

However, due to non-payment of money, Dorairaj too abandoned the construction after constructing the outer wall of the school building. Though he fixed the door and window frames, the works on the ceiling, partition and the floor were not completed, said former Gram Panchayat member Mahadev.

Later, Zilla Panchayat Member Chandresh sanctioned money and the responsibility of building completion was taken by former ZP Member H.R. Gopal. However, not an inch of construction was taken up by Gopal and whatever construction has taken place till now is in a dilapidated condition. The brick walls have developed cracks and certain parts of wooden and window frames have been eaten away by termites which have drilled holes in the wood.

Though nine years have passed, there seems to be no enthusiasm on the part of the authorities to start the school at its own building. While some elected representatives say that the existing walls have to be demolished and fresh construction must be taken up, others have opposed it as the Panchayat has already spent lakhs of rupees on it.

After the Janata House from where the school originally operated became dilapidated, the officials were able to convince villager Raju to part with his house and accommodate the school. Somehow, Raju agreed. But now he wants his house back. According to Raju, the officials had asked space in his house only for six months.

"It has been nine years now and the authorities have not bothered to construct the own school building. I was told only six months and already nine years have passed and there is no trace of any new construction. I want my house back as I need the space to take care of my family," Raju told Star of Mysore.

Even Belliamma is demanding her land back where the school has been constructed half. "At the time when we donated the land for the school, the authorities told us that we will be provided many facilities. We have not got any facilities and we want the land back for us to do agricultural work," Belliamma said.

Even Raju's house is congested and it has little ventilation. There are over 18 students and they are taught by teacher Diwakar. Along with the academic activities, Diwakar has to adjust space at Raju's house for the mid-day meal scheme and to store groceries and vegetables.

According to Diwakar and local leader Subramanya, many times they have appealed to the authorities to complete the school building construction but their appeals fell on deaf ears.

When the schools re-opened on May 28, Raju arrived and prevented the students from entering his building. He even locked the doors and left with the keys. However, he was convinced by the village elders to open the locks for the sake of the students. He relented after much persuasion. But Raju is adamant that he wants the building and has asked the students to be shifted to any other building.

School Development Committee President Ganesh said that he had appealed to the then MLA K. Venkatesh but nothing worked out. "I will make a representation to new MLA K. Mahadev and hope to get some funds," he said.

If at all the present school is merged with any other nearby school, the students have to walk a kilometre to reach the school. "This is not practical and efforts must be made to open the school at K.S. Kalamarigowda Nagar," said C.R.P. Dileep Kumar of Malangi Cluster.

The half-constructed building of K.S. Kalamarigowda Nagar Government Primary School at Periyapatna.

New Jayadeva Hospital to open its door to public from July end

Mysuru, June 2 (MTY&NNN)- The eagerly awaited new Jayadeva Hospital that has come up on KRS Road near Kumbarakoppal Gate, will open its door to the public in July end and the equipment necessary for heart check-up and operation are being installed at a fast pace, said Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research Director Dr. C. N. Manjunath.

Speaking after inspecting the new equipment being installed, he said that the Government had given a grant of Rs.150 crore for the three-storey hospital built on a 15-acre plot.

The 350-bed Hospital was inaugurated in March by former Chief Minister Siddharamaiah. The Institute has invested an additional Rs.60 crore from its own funds to buy the equipment. Already the work on the installation of the equipment is going on at a brisk pace. Some more state-of-the art equipment is also being installed, he said.

It has four operation theatres, four Cardiac Cathlab, 60-bed three Intensive Coronary Units, Cardiac CT and MRI facilities. It also has general wards, special wards, deluxe wards, Echo unit, TMT unit and other facilities, he said. In the ground floor there are the waiting rooms, resting rooms, dispensary, bank, General Outpatient Department, Special Outpatient Department, laboratory and other facilities.

The work on all the facilities must be completed by July first week and by the end of July the hospital must start functioning, Dr. Manjunath told the engineers and the representatives of the equipment manufacturers.

PIL filed in HC questioning Deputy CM's post

Mysuru, June 2- A person from Mysuru has filed a petition in the High Court seeking cancellation of the Deputy Chief Minister's post on the grounds that there was no such provision in the Constitution.

Shehkar S. Iyer, a resident of Mathura Nagar in city in his PIL (Public Interest Litigation), questioned the legality of Dr. G. Parameshwara taking oath as Deputy CM. Pointing out there was no such post as Deputy CM in the Constitution, Iyer has prayed the Court to declare the Deputy Chief Minister's post as unconstitutional, as the post does not have constitutional validity.

Iyer has named the Chief Secretary, Under Secretary of the Department of Personnel and Administrative Reforms (DPAR), Secretary to the Governor and Dr.G. Parameshwara as the respondents.

The petition is likely to come up for hearing next week. The outcome of the petition is being watched keenly, as in the past, B.S. Yeddyurappa of the BJP had functioned as Deputy CM in the JD(S)-BJP coalition Government in 2006-07.
